North West Rally – Tamworth – 10-12 June 2017 (Rove Report by Eve McCormack)

In 2016, the North West Rally was held in Inverell and a very good time was had by the many members of the Queensland Rover Club who attended. In fact, we have been coming to these rallies for some years, but had never ventured to Tamworth, considering it just a bit too far. However, with the opportunity to again meet up with family members on the Monday, we decided to take up the invitation from Tamworth Vintage Car Club for the 2017 North West Rally.

We left Brisbane at 8.45am after a few car issues – would have driven the P6 but not good for Ross' back for such a long journey; not the Rover 75 (in the naughty corner again with thermostat issues) – so jumped in the trusty Freelander and headed off.

After a good, uneventful trip, with a stop at Suttons in Thulimbah (Stanthorpe) for coffee and apple pie, we motored on to Glen Innes. At the coffee stop there we met up with Meryl and Wayne Tupicoff (BMW 323i/E30) and Sue and Geoff Kearns (Rover P5B). The weather became wetter and colder and we eventually arrived at our motel for the night in Armidale.

After a pleasant evening meal at the White Bull Hotel (crumbed lamb cutlets as we were in lamb growing territory), and a good night's sleep, we woke to grey drizzly day. Headed south with a stop at Uralla for coffee and met up with our fellow Queensland Rover Club travellers.

From Uralla, it was a short drive to Tamworth for registration where we met up with Jenny and Chris Seccombe from Narrabri (P4) and from there we headed off to the Manilla Machinery Show. Unfortunately, the weather became quite wet so after a wander along the market stalls and checking out the many and varied stationary engines, we left to find our motel for the night. Our evening meal at Tamworth Wests sports club was very enjoyable – after a lovely meal we were entertained by the Uniting Church Men's Choir—they sang some foot-tapping songs and we all joined in. Eve won a raffle prize – set of drill bits!!

Sunday 9th July 2017

The fun, atmosphere and excitement of RACQ MotorFest will return to Eagle Farm Racecourse, Ascot on Sunday, 9 July 2017. As always, the event promises to have something for everyone. Last year, thousands of car buffs and families turned out to see the 500+ prestige, vintage, unique and collector vehicles that were showcased in a colourful carnival environment. In 2017, all the family favourites will return, including roving entertainment, fresh produce and craft markets, kids' rides and food stalls. It's undoubtedly Brisbane's most inexpensive day out, with all entry fees supporting RACQ LifeFlight Rescue, RACQ Capricorn Helicopter Rescue, RACQ CQ Rescue and Heart of Australia.

Registration fees - Registration fees include your vehicle entry and a commemorative car badge, which you'll receive with your exhibitor kit prior to the event.

- Full Registration (Monday, 1 May - Friday, 9 June 2017): $25 inc GST

Vehicle registrations will not be accepted after Friday, 9 June, or if full registration *is reached prior.

* Vehicle entries will be capped at 750 vehicles.

Anglehurst Village Annual Classic Car Picnic, Mt Tambourine – Sunday 4 June 2017 (Rove Report by Eve McCormack)

Anglehurst Village is a private property at Mt Tambourine which has been developed by car enthusiast, Terry Hurst, into a mini 'English' village including mini shops, fire station, stone church etc, all in a picturesque bush setting. Only British and European car clubs are invited to this annual show, which raises funds for two nominated charities: Camp Quality and Brake Charity.

Ross and Eve McCormack (P6B), met up with Craig Barraud (P6B) and Jon Lowe (Morgan) and we journeyed south to Anglehurst, Mt Tambourine. After entering and parking in the grounds, we were joined by Robert Johnston and Chris Giblin (Rover Quintet).

Ross, Jon and Craig were delighted to walk over the property and spy some Land Rovers and Range Rovers languishing in the 'back paddock'. Back in one of Terry's garages were two Rover P6's.

The various car clubs in attendance provided a good display of all types, makes and models of British and European cars.

There was a van selling Coffee and Tea; a barbecue selling Steak Sandwiches; a stall selling cakes and another couple selling crafty items and honey products.

We were treated to the spectacle of Terry's 10 year old granddaughter very bravely having her long hair cut off – she had raised $5,000 for the privilege. Her hair was then given to the people who make wigs for children who have lost their own hair due to their cancer treatment.

On checking with Terry, he confirmed the day raised $6,000.00, the whole of which he gives to his nominated charities – Camp Quality and Brake Charity.

The weather was lovely and a very enjoyable time was had by those Queensland Rover Club members who attended. It is an outing to keep in mind for the future.

Thanks to Eve McCormack for writing and submitting these Rove Reports - the editor cannot always get to events and members' contributions and photographs are very much appreciated.
